2020
year of the
NURSE & MIDWIFE

Ramsay Health Care is celebrating the important contributions of our nurses and midwives – to our patients and the health of the global population. These women and men play a vital role in delivering excellent health care services.

We have launched a global campaign to honour the nurses and midwives who dedicate their own lives to improving the lives of others.

Ramsay nurses and midwives work in almost 500 facilities across 11 countries.

In 2020, we are profiling one Ramsay nurse or midwife from a different part of the world each week.

We invite you to read about their stories, motivations, and future aspirations.

Please visit our campaign web page or follow us on social media to help us celebrate:

World Health Organization

The World Health Organisation has named 2020 the Year of the Nurse and Midwife. This year marks the 200th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale – the world's most famous nurse.
